

CSU professor emeritus Bruno Klinger dies

BRUNO KLINGER
Professor Emeritus

Bruno Klinger, 72, died Friday in his home at 705 Country Club Road after an illness of several months.

Arrangements are pending at the Goodrich Mortuary. The body has been cremated.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Bruno Klinger Scholarship Fund in care of the Colorado State University Development Office.

Klinger was born Oct. 19, 1905, in Hanover, Kan. He married Mary F. West April 19, 1962, in Boulder. She survives.

Klinger received bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Nebraska where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

After college, he worked for the Soil Conservation Service and in 1947 he joined the CSU faculty to teach botany.

Following his retirement from CSU in 1971 as a full professor, Klinger served as professor emeritus in botany and as a specialist in poisonous plants for the CSU College of Veterinary Medicine.

He recently returned from Mexico where he conducted field trips and workshops on poisonous plants at several schools of veterinary medicine.

As a lecturer for the National Wildlife Federation, he taught classes in edible wild plants and led nature hikes at the organization's annual meetings in Estes Park.

He was a member of the Alonzo Martinez Scholarship Committee and the Student Aid Committee. He also had served as board member, vice-president and facilities chairman of the Fort Collins Symphony Society.

Others surviving are a sister, Mrs. Martha Funke of Pasadena, Calif., and brothers, Walter of Pasadena, Ernst of Louisville, Ky., and Martin of Hooper, Colo.

Benjamin Harris

Benjamin Harris, 87, formerly of Fort Collins, died Friday in the Veterans Hospital in Cheyenne, Wyo., after a lengthy illness.

The funeral will be at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the Russell Funeral Chapel. The Rev. James W. Baird of the First United Presbyterian Church will officiate. Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery.

A resident of Cheyenne at the time of his death, Harris was born April 11, 1890 in Grays, Ky. He married Viola May Pappas Feb. 25, 1922, in Greeley. She survives.

Harris was a retired farmer and a World War I army veteran.

He also is survived by two sons, Ben L. Harris and Edwin L. Harris of Cheyenne, Wyo.; a daughter, Mrs. Bert Vogele of Portland, Ore.; 12 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Lovisa T. Bishop

Lovisa T. Bishop, 88, died Saturday in a local nursing home after a prolonged illness.

A graveside service will be at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Grandview Cemetery under the direction of the Rev. Marvin Lubenow.

Mrs. Bishop was born Nov. 23, 1888, in Osage, Iowa. She married Thomas W. Bishop in 1908 in Osage.

In 1971 she moved to Fort Collins from South Bend, Ind.

Mrs. Bishop is survived by her son, Thomas A. Bishop of Fort Collins.

Bruno Klinger obituary

Clipped By:

johtdelaparra

Thu, Dec 16, 2021